I may process “personal data” and/or “special category personal data” (as defined in UK data protection legislation, including UK GDPR) as part of the contracted services and/or for administration. Information is kept while it remains relevant to the reason for collection and/or if there is a statutory retention period. All feasible security measures are in place, including secure destruction when required. Security of data in my care is important to me.

Data may be shared with third parties as part of the contracted services, for administrative purposes and/or if I am required by law to do so. I cannot accept any liability for any processing conducted by any third party outside my remit.

As required by law, a cookie audit has been conducted on my website. Cookies are internet files utilised by websites. This website does not utilise any cookies. Any social media links you may access via my site may utilise cookies, but I am not responsible for these.

None of the above affects your rights under the legislation, in particular your right to access the data I may hold on you. If you wish to request a copy of your data, please submit it in writing/email to me via one of the methods above. Please include enough information to enable me to identify you and to search for appropriate data.

If you are dissatisfied with this privacy notice, have queries about my data protection procedures or wish to lodge a complaint, please contact me via one of the methods above in the first instance. Thereafter, you have the right to submit a complaint to the supervisory authority, which is the
